

The BASIC Coaching Method

As qualified Trainers of Andy Buck's BASIC Coaching Method, Two Rivers Institute are pleased to be able to offer the BASIC training course to middle and senior leaders to give them the clarity they need to coach with confidence

Best-selling author and speaker Andy Buck has taken the latest thinking and research from the field of coaching and translated it into his tried-and-tested BASIC method, which is easy to learn and simple to apply whether you are supporting one of your colleagues to overcome a challenge, helping a member of your team to prioritise their tasks, or want to explore the concept of instructional coaching.

This programme is aimed at in-school coaches, Early Career Framework mentors, Lead Practitioners, Senior Leaders and support staff who are looking to develop coaching strategies to aid the growth of colleagues within the context of their role. The programme will be facilitated by Kate Ball and Matt Cooper from Twynham Learning schools.

During this two-day programme, senior and middle leaders will learn how to use a coaching approach in their everyday leadership and 1:1 conversations to promote the very best outcomes for pupils. We will look at the key principles and practice around coaching and how leaders can develop their coaching leadership style. The programme is very interactive and includes an opportunity for participants to practise coaching with time for reflection and feedback. An outline of the programme is as follows: -

Day One

- BASIC Introduction & Overview
- BASIC Steps
- BASIC Qualities
- BASIC Techniques in action
- Coaching in my Context

Day Two

- BASIC Habits
- BASIC Feedback
- Coaching Practice
- Q&A Forum
- Evaluation
